Pair charged in assault

Two Lindsay residents have been charged with assault following an incident Saturday evening in which Minden taxi driver Ed Pritchard was knocked to the ground when attempting to deal with two individuals riding in his cab.

The incident took place shortly after 11 p.m. when Pritchard had picked up three individuals at a Minden hotel. The riders were being unruly in the cab so Pritchard stopped the vehicle and asked them to get out.

The police report that a scuffle ensued in which Pritchard was knocked to the ground.

Charged with assault are Ricky Varty and Paul Wilkinson, both 18 years of age and both of Lindsay.

Cottage damaged

Charges have been laid against three Toronto area individuals after a series of cottage break-ins occurred in Stanhope Township recently.

According to the police, nine cottages on Three Brothers Lake and one on Saskatchewan Lake were broken into. The exact date of the break-ins was not determined. In addition to removing items from the property, extensive damage was done to the cottages.

Police report that furniture was thrown through windows, doors were kicked in, a television set was damaged by gunfire and other items in the cottages were destroyed. An estimate of the damage was placed at more than $1000. Some $4000 in articles were stolen including a boat which was used to gain access to some of the isolated cottages.

The arrest of the individuals was carried out by the Metropolitan Toronto Police who have charged the three with possession of stolen goods. The trio will face break and enter charges laid by Minden OPP. Some of the stolen property was recovered.

Charged were James Foster 32, of Pickering, Wade Gallant 30, of Toronto and Luis Pacheco, 25, also of Toronto.

The investigating officers from the Minden detachment were Constables Brian Ladurantaye and Glenn Irving.

Susan Peel entertains Ruth James at the Rails' End Gallery's Children's Art Show. The Friday opening drew children of all ages to the Gallery to enjoy the art and savour popcorn prepared by Miss Piggy. Paul Simpson's toys were also displayed.

Arcade by-law questioned

The Dysart arcade bylaw, and the policy governing the number of arcades on main street in the village was tested yet again at the regular council meeting May 9.

Peter Kanters of West

Guilford said the $500 licence fee is too much in relation to the income he receives from his machines. He also questioned the need for the arbitrary $500 fee. He suggested there are better ways to determine the licence fee such as square footage or a percentage of income.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said taking a percentage of a business income would be an invasion of privacy. Councillor Glen Hodgson told Kanters that inspections are costly and must be carried out frequently. He said the municipality wants to "try to make our efforts as self-sustaining as possible."

Community asked to share in responsibility

The responsibility for preventing crime in Haliburton County and, for that matter, Ontario communities, is shifting away from the police and on to the shoulders of citizens. That was the message delivered to the Minden Rotary club by Ontario Provincial Police Community Relations Office Gary Chapman. The constable was outlining a new program being introduced by the police to increase citizens' participation in the policing of their own community.

"In the past, police were more involved in reactive policing," Chapman told the meeting. "When a problem arose, police were called in, hopefully to solve the crime." However he noted that certain changes over the past few years have altered the emphasis of police agencies.

One of the biggest influences is a tightening of police budgets. With fewer financial resources, the authorities have had to be more selective in responding to calls from the public. "We have to sort the minor from the major occurrences and assign priorities," Chapman said.

An example of the direct result of this situation was illustrated by the officer. "If someone is involved in a traffic accident in the county in which there is no injury that requires attention, the road is not blocked and is occurs within half an hour in the change of shift of officers, it is likely that person will have to wait longer than he did previously for an officer to arrive to investigate. Our force can no longer afford overtime pay for relatively minor occurrences," Chapman stated.

The officer said the force is moving from a reactive to a proactive emphasis in which the prevention of crime and traffic accidents receives more attention.

Old days

In many ways this new stance reflects the situation which existed years ago when formalized policing was not in place. In those days, Constable Chapman pointed out, community residents watched out for their neighbours. However, as the population grew, there was an increasing need for a more organized police force. As the size of the policing units grew, citizens felt less inclined to take an active part in the protection of their community. That attitude must change if the police are going to be expected to carry out their responsibilities within the constraints outlined by the government.

Police in Ontario have already started a number of programs which encourage citizens to take an active part in protecting their property. These include the marking of personal property with an identification number to ease recovery if stolen and reduce the temptation to the thief. A similar program also operates within the business community in which each business is assigned a number and asked to mark property with that number.

In person protection, the Block Parents program, which assists with the protection of school age children, has been in operation for a number of years.

The newest addition to these efforts, and perhaps the one demanding the most from its participants, is the Neighbourhood Watch program. "It is simply a program of neighbours watching other neighbours property during times when break-ins or acts of vandalism are likely to occur," Chapman explained. "It is a mutual aid system where neighbours can watch the property on either side, across the street and behind. If everyone is participating, then everyone is protected." An individual noting something wrong at a neighbour's property would then alert police who would investigate.

"The Neighbourhood Watch program must come from within the community," Chapman said. "We have the information and pamphlets to explain what it is all about, but the police department is not about to force it upon a community that doesn't want it. There must be an interest and concern from the residents themselves to ensure the program is a success."

That was one of the officer's reasons for addressing the Minden Rotary club. He was looking for support from the group to sponsor a public meeting to explain the idea. Later this week a similar presentation will be made to the Haliburton Rotary club.

"The idea will take a fair amount of time and effort in the initial stages. Some funding may be necessary, but this will not involve large sums," Chapman said.

"I am very hopeful this program will be endorsed by the general community and will serve as a deterrent to crime and bind us all closer together in a united effort to improve the security of our neighbours," Chapman stated.

Details about an organizational meeting for the Neighbourhood Watch program will be made public through The Times when a decision has been made on when and where a meeting will be held.

Arcade by-law

Kanters asked the reasoning behind allowing establishments with liquor licences to escape making the payment.

It was explained that the bylaw is primarily designed to control the use of the machines by younger players. Fearrey said those in a licenced business would be 19 or over in the case of taverns or would be supervised by parents in other cases. He added that most other bylaws of this nature exempted licenced premises.

The reeve asked the West Guilford businessman if he did not make enough out of the machines. Kanters replied he depended primarily on his local clientele. He said he did not get the amount of business the main street arcade enjoys. "There's just too much difference," he said. The resort owner also suggested a system of payments where those in more remote areas paid less.

The reeve pointed out that taxes are not given in relation to proximity to Haliburton Village and added it could be unconstitutional to set different rates according to location.

Council informed Kanters there is a provision in the bylaw stating the licensee could pay for the length of time the arcade is operational. If an arcade is operated only during the summer months, for example, the licensee could apply to have some of the fee returned, at council's discretion.

In other arcade business, Grant Lubin, owner of the Pizza Place in Haliburton, made an application for council to consider. Lubin made the application despite council policy to permit one arcade in the main street. Fearrey informed council Lubin had mentioned considering court action if his request was refused.

According to Fearrey, Lubin said refusal of his application is discriminatory because of both the loss of revenue from the machines he operates and because he is prepared to abide by the control bylaw.

In his application however, the bylaw Lubin stated he is prepared to obey was termed "the old bylaw" which council replaced recently with a more comprehensive bylaw. The municipal council members noted they could not recognize the older piece of legislation and voted down the application on that basis.

Deputy Reeve Gary McKnight said council should outline the reasons for rejecting the application to stymie a renewed application citing the proper authority. "If we only want one arcade on the main street then let's do it," he urged.

Picnic planned for July 1

Efforts are currently underway to organize a community picnic for Minden on Canada Day.

The community picnic idea was the only one to emerge from a meeting Monday evening at the municipal office called to ascertain if there was interest in the community for special activities July 1.

Representative from a number of organizations, including the Minden Nursery Play School, the Museum Committee, the Horticultural Society, Archie Stouffer Elementary School, Board of Education and the Recreation Committee were on hand to discuss the possibility of holding a celebration. The municipal council, as a co-ordinating body, had called the meeting.

Two members of the Minden Nursery Play School Pat Balcombe and Robin Bailey offered to spear-head the organization of a community picnic July 1. Ideas being considered include a series of athletic events in which all members of the family could take part, a pot luck picnic supper and other activities.

It was noted that a number of groups which had expressed an interest in assisting with the celebration were not in attendance Monday. An effort will be made to contact these organizations with the hope that they would be willing to assist. A second meeting is planned (no date has been set) at which time details for the day's activities will be discussed. The date for the meeting will be announced in The Times.

Anyone interested in volunteering to help during the picnic is asked to contact Pat Balcombe at 286-1281 or Robin Bailey at 286-3332.

New look for hospital

The Minden Red Cross Hospital is having an open house Wednesday, May 11 to show off the renovations which are now complete and to display some of the new equipment the facility has received through generous donations from local clubs and associations.

Nurse - administrator Jean Anderson said the open house is "a method to let the community see what has been done. They've been very good to us," she added.

Among the donations from local groups has been the new x-ray machine the Minden Rotary Club set their sights on about a year ago and, with help from the local Red Cross society and an anonymous donor, managed to supply. The Rotary Club had collected $30,000 for the $39,000 machine and was committed to borrowing the additional money. The loan was not required when the Red Cross donated $4,000 and the unknown donor $5,000.

Royal Canadian Legion Branch 129 in Haliburton and Branch 441 in Kinmount have also made substantial donations for equipment. The memorial fund of the Red Cross made a contribution for a blood pressure machine. Also, the Kinsmen Club donated a new boardroom table.

The renovations, funded by the Ministry of Health have substantially changed the interior of the hospital.

The entrance area has been most dramatically changed. Formerly, the right side of the hall was one large room. The room performed a number of functions including x-ray, the nursing department, the outpatient department and cupboards to the rear of the room held "quite a few sterile supplies". The other side of the hall had a waiting room with a capacity for seating only four comfortably and offices.

With the renovations, a whole new set of rooms were created and the result is a more orderly area. "It's easier to work when there is an area designated for it," said Anderson. "It could get quite hectic at times," she continued, referring to the older set up.

Offices, a larger waiting room, a nurse's station and proper facilities for the sterile supplies are now available to the staff, giving the hospital a more efficient aspect. The x-ray room has also been created from the old office area and a room has been transformed for out-patients.

The hospital "has been re-decorated and a coat of paint does wonders. Several people have told us it looks quite nice. Because there is such terrific support, I thought they'd like to see what has been done," concluded Anderson.

Nurse-Administrator Jean Anderson stands at the new entranceway to the patients' wing at the Minden Red Cross Hospital.

Raises approved

Following a trend throughout the county with councils ratifying five percent raises for employees and themselves, Bicroft township council has voted an increase within the provincial guidelines.

Clerk-treasurer Sandra McColl said Reeve Bill Howe will now receive $144.90 per month, up from $138. This puts his yearly stipend at $1738.80, an $82.80 increase over the $1656 he formerly received.

Councillors D.R. Bailey, A.O. Easton, J.S. Fraser and W.J. Todd will receive a $69 yearly increase. The five percent restriction allows them a $5.75 monthly raise. The $115 per month they were paid grows to $120.75 which means a yearly increase from $1380 to $1449.

Because of Bicroft's population, there isn't a deputy reeve elected in the township.

Snowdon raise

At the regular meeting of Snowdon township council, held April 13, municipal employees were voted a five percent raise.

The councillors, however, refrained from voting themselves the same raise. They have not had an increase since 1981.

In denying themselves a raise, Reeve Bob Vick will continue to receive $2,000 a year, Deputy Reeve Dwayne Wruth will stay at $1800, and Councillors R. Burk, J. Hills and B. Neville remain at $1,600 per annum.

High water cancels race

Heavy rainfall during the past week has resulted in an elevated water level along the Gull River once again. The high water, close to the peaks noted earlier this year, flooded a number of basements along the river, drowned a large portion of Rotary park, and resulted in the cancellation of the kayak competition at the Minden Wild Water Preserve.

Kayak officials were able to set the gates and other equipment in place Saturday, however, when the heavy rains descended Saturday night, the level in the river was pushed too high for safe passage by the paddlers. As a result, the races were postponed.

The slalom competition has been re-scheduled for May 22 with practice runs taking place on Saturday, May 21. Spectators are invited to take in the action at the park on Horseshoe Lake Road One.

A worthwhile program

Ours is an age of specialists. We rely on one person to do our plumbing repairs, for example, another to fix our appliances. This specialization has been a boon to mankind as it freed individuals to pursue one vocation or line of interest while relying on others to fill the void left by their own specialization.

While the division of labour provided certain benefits, it also led to a change in outlook and attitude. In one area in particular, community protection, the responsibility for solving and preventing crime, which once was shared by the entire community, has shifted to an organized law enforcement agency.

The police are now attempting to shift some of that responsibility back to the community. They are eager to obtain the co-operation of the public in helping to protect the community against such acts as theft and vandalism.

The Neighbourhood Watch, as the program is called, is the latest step in that direction. Residents are asked to keep an eye on their neighbours property. If they see something suspicious, the matter should be reported to the local police. We believe the program could be a valuable asset to the community. We suggest the program is already in operation here, informally, but it could be strengthened by formalizing the process.

The Neighbourhood Watch program could help to restore that feeling of community which has been lost over the past few years. It will definitely help to deter crime in the community and return a degree of responsibility to local citizens for the mutual protection of property. Hopefully, community support for the program will see it become successfully established here.

Disaster fund needed

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

The extensive damage suffered by many communities in southern Ontario as a result of a severe storm again draws attention to the need for the establishment of a consistent provincial policy by the government on the sort of support that will be available to communities caught in these circumstances, rather than leaving it simply to the generosity of the government of the day to decide.

The citizens in the Counties of Victoria and Haliburton could be caught in a similar disaster. My colleagues and I have been concerned for a number of years about the ad hoc approach to the assistance of individuals in communities where natural disasters strike and have made proposals that would have taken this matter out of the political sphere.

We believe that an emergency relief fund should be established to provide loan and grant assistance to individuals and communities subject to extraordinary expenditure due to natural disaster, and that the assistance be payable through municipalities or by the Ministry of Northern Affairs in the unorganized parts of Ontario.

The province's usual policy of matching funds raised by municipalities in times of disaster and after special resolutions have been passed and special arguments made is not good enough. Local government should not have to pay for the damage.

It is time Ontario had a clear financial program for the designation of disaster situations and a program whereby citizens directly affected could have immediate assistance.

Tile drainage loans

In response to pressure and questions in the Legislature regarding tile drainage loans, we welcome the announcement of the Minister of Agriculture and Food to reduce interest rates on these loans from ten per cent to eight per cent for the coming year.

We are still concerned, however, that the maximum loan assistance is to be continued at 60 per cent of the cost of eligible installations. It has been repeatedly pointed out to the government that this level should be increased to 75 per cent of the cost of the drainage work.

Moreover, we believe that the government's investment under this program is still about 40 per cent less than the demand, and we hope that in the upcoming budget statement funding for this program will be increased to $50 million per year.

Editor:

On behalf of my fellow committee members and the Scouts, Cubs and Beavers, of the First Minden Scout Group - 'Thank You' - to the community for your support this year of our activities!

To refresh your memories, we have 6 during the year where we are in direct contact with the Community:-

- Apple Day, Trees for Canada and the Soup and Sandwich Kitchen, all of which are our ways of raising funds for the Group.

- Poppy sales in November on behalf of the Legion

- Parading to the Cenotaph and honouring those from this area who are commemorated on Remembrance Day and an entry in the Minden Winter Carnival Parade.

By your support, you have shown that Scouting in Minden is still a desirous and beneficial activity for your sons, even though it hasn't the high profile of hockey, for example. Such support was exemplified by the recent Trees for Canada planting, where more family members worked along with the Scouts, Cubs and Beavers than ever before!

This support which is sincerely appreciated, goes far beyond just patronizing the above mentioned activities. We are quite aware that many men in the community are heavily involved in many areas, all of which, take time.

However, Scouting is man's world and needs men to help boys learn to grow into succeeding generations of strong and moral men! This may sound chauvinistic - it is not intended to be - dedicated and capable ladies have helped in the past and are helping and leading in Beavers and Cubs at this moment - we are grateful!

Moms have quite a lot to do as it is fellows! Many of them work outside to help the family income, as well as; -cook, clean, iron, mend, drive in car pools, help at

Sweet sounds from Highlands choristers

The sweet sounds wafted to the rafters at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School as the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts Choral Society sang to a receptive audience during their yearly concert staged Wednesday, May 5.

Conductor Marilyn Stouffer directed the group through their paces to the accompaniment of pianist Catherine Kellet.

Richard Stouffer and William Sherwood also played on the program treating the audience to contemporary music written by Stouffer and a flute solo by Sherwood of a selection from Telemann's Fantasia.

The singers covered a wide range of music from Johannes Brahms and Franz Joseph Haydn through Rodgers and Hammerstein to Ray Charles and Pete Seeger. Bill Gliddon, composer of the recently performed Requiem for Terry Fox, also had a composition of his sung at the concert. His little uncertain about the piece but responded with enthusiasm when it was completed.

Conductor Marilyn Stouffer said the group may take a new direction in its next presentation planned for next year. She said she hoped to try an oratorio, perhaps Handel's The Messiah, for a change of pace altering the past three years' program format. While the conductor said everyone had been supportive of the group, a change might be in order.

Marilyn Stouffer, mother of Richard Stouffer, said he and William Sherwood are both graduates of Western University's music program, earning bachelor degrees.

They have performed concerts in London and St. Catharines, and "hope to come back for a concert in the summer," Stouffer noted.

Both are busy composing and working with contemporary music, said Stouffer.

Summer Song of Praise, glorifying the Haliburton Highlands, led off the evening. The spectators enjoyed all the phases the choristers led them through.

Ruth Pogue, Shirley Hill, and Donna Jowett combined on Chinook, weaving their voices together and creating a lovely rendition of the piece. Nancy Robichaud soloed on a version of Old Mother Hubbard, eliciting appreciative smiles from the onlookers. Ruth Pogue rendered a haunting interpretation of Robert Franz's Woodland Thoughts.

Before the intermission,

Stouffer and Sherwood performed. Sherwood led with his flute solo of Fantasia and Stouffer followed with his own composition using several percussive instruments including a vibraphone, cymbal and xylophone.

The most unusual piece of the evening was performed by both the men. Again a Stouffer composition, the two set up a rhythm clapping and striking their legs. They also split toe tapping duties.

May is the month of the frog's serenade. When the warm spring rains fill the weedy ponds with renewed life, the swamps and marshes seem to overflow with exuberance of the mating calls of amphibians. Chorus frogs call out their "pr-r-reep, pr-r-reep"; wood frogs softly chime in their quacking notes, bullfrogs add a hearty base "jug-o-rum"; and above it all, the shrill whistling of the spring peepers jingles and tinkles away.

The song of the spring peeper, which can be heard up to a mile away, is a big voice for a small package. An adult spring peeper is only about one inch long, barely larger than your thumbnail. The chorus of peepers is an all-male group; the female peepers are silently hopping through the underbrush to respond to this love call.

The peeper's song is bagpipe music. Frogs "sing" with their vocal cords, in much the same way as humans. However, a frog has a special advantage, in the form of an expandable throat pouch that can be inflated into a balloon almost as large as the frog itself. As the peeper flexes its muscles, it swishes air from the throat through the vocal cords into its lungs, and then back again to create double the music.

Spring peepers are one of the earliest frogs to migrate to the spring ponds. To protect their eggs from sudden cold spells, they lay eggs singly, dropping up to 1000 from each female onto the pond floor. The floating masses or strips of eggs laid by other frogs are more vulnerable to cold.

from the chamber

This is an extremely busy time of year at the Chamber as we rush to get the various marketing efforts underway and respond to the many inquiries that are generated. The 30,000 brochures placed in supermarket displays have brought a huge response as has our advertising in the Toronto Star.

It's also convention time with the Ontario Association of Convention Bureaux just over and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce coming up the end of this month. It's not just attending the conventions that requires time but the putting into practice of the many new and exciting ideas when we return that also must be considered.

Last week, as well, Bob & Marj Jennings and ourselves were privileged as Directors of Resorts Ontario, to attend a reception and dinner for participants in the past Rendezvous Canada Resort F.A.M. Tour. We made some excellent contacts with travel wholesalers as far away as Australia and New Zealand, and bus tour operators from Washington, Philadelphia and New York. We also met the executive director of the Nova Scotia Board of Trade who of course showed great interest in our new Trade Dollar that is being introduced May 18.

(Flash - We just heard that the Dysart Recreation Committee are using the Trade Dollars for prizes in some of the Victoria Day Celebrations on May 22).

Arts and tourism

We were very honoured to take place in the panel discussion recently at the Rails' End Gallery on tourism and the arts and noted the many positive points that were made in support of this sector. It is worth remembering that when we support organizations such as the Guild of Fine Arts, the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, the Museum and the Gallery that we are not contributing to the cultural good of our community, but that we are adding substantially to our attractiveness as a tourist area as well.

We were given some excellent advice by Diana Koechlin who was representing the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture on the panel. She suggested our promotion costs could be cut considerably if we all expounded with more pride about the attributes of our own community. The many fine facilities that have been created here through the hard work and dedication of community-minded citizens is something we should all be extremely proud of, she said. She gave as an example the fact that when the Rails' End Gallery is awarded full Gallery status it will be one of only 22 in all of Ontario that has this recognition. Quite an accomplishment in a community of this size.

Summer help

We are sometimes asked why we don't advertise the positions that are available for students at the Chamber during the summer. We use the Manpower Outreach office located in the centre of Haliburton village for three reasons. First of all because the Chamber sponsors the Outreach office, secondly because students must be registered there to qualify under the funded programs, and, last but not least, it is a very convenient method of hiring employees.

We are hiring two counsellors this year, one for our Minden office and one for the Haliburton Caboose. We also applied for one for Cardiff but were not successful. We have also been funded for a new program called Internship which should be very worthwhile. On this program a student is hired for 13 weeks for the next three summers. Each year they will be given an increased amount of responsibility. This program will be ideal for any student attending, or planning to attend a tourism course in college or university.

Harvest Festival prizes

This fall during the four weekends of Harvest Festival we will be giving away four V.I.P. weekends to winners of the "I Want to Visit Harvest Festival" contest on C.B.C. Allin Miller, host of C.B.C.'s Ontario Morning radio show, will be promoting this contest and the many prizes included in each weekend. Those interested in donating any part of any weekend in return for the publicity this will generate are invited to contact the Chamber at 286-1760. We look forward to hearing from you.

Class n' Sass

"Gooderham's famous Class n' Sass Fashion Show" is getting underway at 8:00 p.m. this Friday at the Glamorgan Community Centre. We thank them for the personal invitation and hope many of you will be out there taking in the event.

C.O.T.A. marketing meeting

On Wednesday, May 26 the Central Ontario Travel Association will hold their annual marketing meeting at the Red Carpet Inn in Lindsay. Plans of both the C.O.T.A. and the Ontario government will be presented to inform those in attendance of how our area will be promoted in the coming year. Special guest speaker will be John Hope Johnstone who has recently been appointed the marketing agent for Resorts Ontario. We hope to see many of you there.

Municipalities claim lack of consultation

County council discussed the recently submitted waste management study amid complaints from various municipalities about potential locations and lack of contact from the consultants. The report, presented at last month's council meeting, was prepared by Greer Galloway and Associates of Peterborough.

Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick said his township did not receive the questionnaire sent to each municipality. However, the township's clerk - treasurer Geoffrey Wynne said the municipality did receive the document. County engineer Bill Obee said he was sure Snowdon received its questionnaire.

Vick also "wondered how" the consultants arrived at conclusions about potential dump sites and questioned the site ground inspection. Sherbourne et al Deputy Reeve Donald Shortreed added that "a request for a field trip meeting was not followed up."

Obee said Monday he had written a letter to Greer Galloway requesting for clarification on the various council member's concerns about the suspected inadequacies.

Ross Duncan, Cardiff deputy reeve, said he rejected the municipality's potential dump site because it was plotted by the consultants to be in the hamlet of Highland Grove. Obee informed the deputy reeve that "one of the criteria" was that potential sites be one-quarter of a mile from the nearest human habitation. He said when contacted Monday he is finding out the lot and concession numbers for the municipality.

Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman said his municipality is in the worst position in the county with the Monmouth dump due to close shortly and no future sites outlined in the report. "Out of 53,000 acres there has to be a potential dump site," he said.

"I thought it was good," Obee said, "the study is the best Ministry of the Environment (MOE) officials have seen in Ontario." He added, the District of Muskoka has been waiting for a dump study for three years. There are "all kinds of errors" in the Muskoka report.

County warden Bill Howe praised the study, prefacing discussion by council members. The "terms of reference were carried out fairly well, with the exception of future sites," said Howe, although he added asking the consultants to provide specific sites would "take a lot of money." This is "valuable information for each municipality to work with" and now the municipalities "should do our work," he said.

"You're not going to get a Cadillac document for that money," replied Howe when complaints were aired. Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer noted the county may have received a "vehicle we can't certify" in the report.

Howe repeated that the report as requested by the county was not meant to be as comprehensive as some of the councillors seemed to believe. He suggested sending the report and any problems to the planning committee for consideration.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said that if the county had wanted an in-depth report on future dumpsites, engineering, environmental and other pre-requisites would have to be taken into account. The county "could have spent $100,000," he concluded.

STEDMAN'S

Children's Art Show opens

The Rails' End Gallery was altered to serve children and the kids seemed to think it was a good idea.

They tossed back plastic glassfuls of apple juice and bowls of popcorn while looking at their art, or friends' art, on display at the gallery.

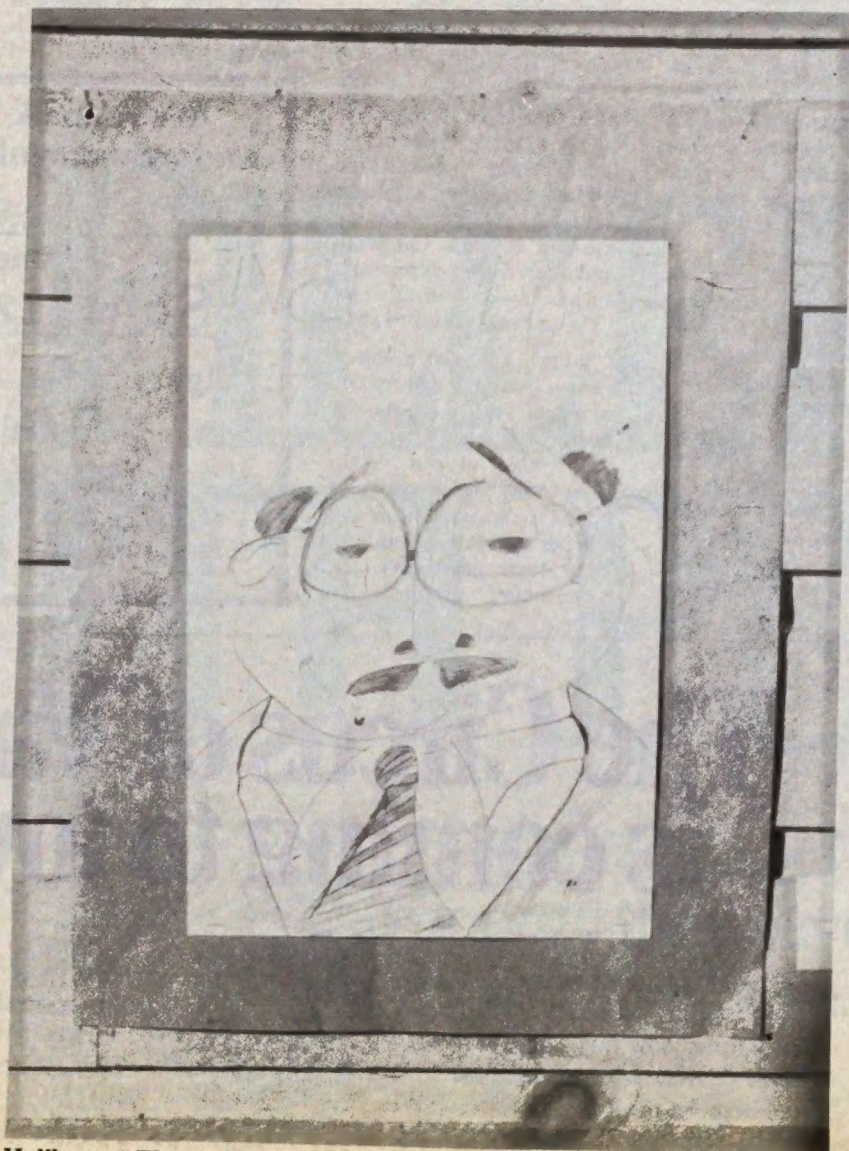

The children's art show opened last Friday and the contrast between it and the usually staid adult shows was refreshing. A splendid time was had by all.

There are about 75 pieces at the converted station and some showed a sophisticated idea of colour, perception and theme. Scholarships were granted to those who showed the clearest grasp of the criteria on which they were judged. There were 43 scholarships collected. "The scholarships are for a one week course at the School of Fine Arts. There are six different children's courses available this summer," revealed Chris Lynd. Donations from Minden and Haliburton businesses and a large grant from the Women Teacher's Federation helped finance the scholarships.

Lynd said that the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden has a children's art show as well. Students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School can also receive the scholarships.

Those who captured prizes had their work judged on merit and the skill evidenced by the pieces. Judges included Lynd, two teachers, a gallery director and Debbie Bates, a local artist.

Part of the fun at the gallery were the two clowns (Susan Peel and Nada Vaughan) stirring up fun and the incomparable Miss Haliburton Elementary School student Patrick Irwin's "Uncle Ed" won a scholarship for him from the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts at the Children's Art Show.

Piggy (Barbara Peel) at the popcorn machine.

Craftsman Paul Simpson provided other fun with some of his clever children's toys. "His toys are very much a hands on exhibit," said Lynd.

Simpson will be demonstrating his toys and discussing their function, history and the craftsmanship when he visits the gallery Friday and Saturday of this week. The Stouffville artist has been at the Rails' End before with his work.

The show continues to May 26.

Board refuses financial help for theatre

A letter from the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association was discussed at the Haliburton County Board of Education monthly meeting on April 26.

The letter, dated April 25, requested support from the Board for a community theatre. "They wanted us to join with them and get into the theatre," said board chairman Nancy Stinson.

While the Board is receptive to the idea, it "supports in principle the concept of a community theatre," according to the minutes, the county board rejected the Association's request. "It (the board) cannot at this point in time provide financial input or support staff for this project."

Stinson said the major problem with the request is the localized nature of the proposed theatre. The board is not free to assist the project because it is concentrated on the Lake Kashagawigamog area and "doesn't go into Stanhope for example, or anywhere else," explained the board chairman.

Drugs explained

The Board approved a proposal for Archie Stouffer Public School for a presentation about drugs.

The performers, a Young People's Group, visit an educational institution and explain the harmful effects drugs can have. The group uses puppets and perform skits to relay the message to the children. There is also a discussion period on drug abuse.

Stinson was enthusiastic about the presentation. She said it could be taken around the county because the drug problem is "getting worse in some areas".

The method used to convey the information to the children has many benefits. "It is geared toward children, rather than adults," said Stinson.

Stuart Baker, principal of Archie Stouffer Elementary School, said the group would be in Minden on June 17. He said the first assembly, from 9:00 to 9:45 would be geared to grades six to eight, while the second 45 minute presentation, from 9:45 to 10:30 would be tailored for grades one to five.

Tourism industry being ignored

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

In December of last year, having felt constant frustration at the way this government has treated the tourism industry in Canada, our party formed a new Caucus Tourism Committee under the chairmanship of Mel Gass, M.P. As the representative of this area where tourism is a vital part of our economy, I joined the committee and have participated in its deliberations.

This industry has the greatest potential for job creation of any other. It has the potential to create 40,000 jobs annually in the construction and operating fields.

Quoting from the remarks of Mel Gass in that debate, "The federal government should, through co-operation with the provinces, develop a national tourism industry. I urge the government to do everything it can to aid the tourist industry, thereby creating thousands of jobs for people in need of jobs, especially at a time when there has never been a greater need for jobs in Canada".

We had hopes that this debate would cause the government to consider establishing a separate ministry for this $16.5 billion industry, as the Minister of State (Small Business and Tourism) stated was his intention in a speech in Vancouver. At the least, it was expected that the debate would lead to some positive measures in the budget to stimulate the industry.

What the budget did was just the opposite.

First of all, it ignored our pleas for a separate ministry. Secondly, it increased federal sales tax and the excise tax on alcoholic beverages thereby widening the gap between Canadian and other countries prices. It announced that the "Canadian Ownership Charge", a 4 cent a gallon tax on gasoline, will remain in effect thus keeping the price of fuel at a level far above that of our neighbour. A 6% tax has also been added to the cost of in-house movies at hotels and motels.

In their generosity, the government doubled the value of goods that Canadians can bring back to Canada actually providing us with an incentive to travel abroad. As my friend Stan Darling said in the House on April 27th, "It is almost as though the government is saying to Canadians, 'Go and holiday somewhere else. We don't want your business'".

Wednesday, May 11, 1983

This is not the attitude that our federal government should be supporting and it is the goal of our committee to present a viable alternative.

school, garden - and - raise your children, while you're away making a living or meeting! Perhaps with a little priority changing in the near future, you might be able to fit in some child leading in the Scout Movement. A stream started now would ensure that there would always be someone willing to help and keep the First Minden Scout Group alive, rather than fold as it once did!

We need leaders as well as committee members - our Cub leader Mrs. Henderson is leaving, as is Mrs. Prentice; our Secretary, Mrs. Magill also wishes to leave as do I - please consider helping us!

Our Going - Up ceremony and annual meeting are on Wednesday, June 8 and I sincerely hope some men and women will volunteer to fill these vacancies at that time.

Solicitor suggests course

Dysart solicitor David Bishop has suggested the direction the municipality should take to resolve the problems it has experienced with the beaver dam at Thayer's Pond.

Bishop suggested writing a letter and sending copies of it by registered mail to all the land owners on the pond and the Ministry of Natural Resources telling them of the hazards experienced with the pond. The lawyer said that although the pond is on private land the municipality could try to gain permission to alleviate the water build-up. "Once we have our hands on it, we'll have problems," he admitted, though.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey suggested getting permission from the land-owners to solve the question of liability in case a problem develops.

Bishop said a hazard, though located on private property, which could be dangerous to others off the property, introduces possibilities of liability.

Bishop said he was concerned about the nature of the damming system in that area. There are three ponds he explained, holding back a large amount of water above the village. If the next dam breakage was of a more serious nature, the implications could be more severe than in the past. Road superintendent Howard Roberts said he is concerned with the possibility of all the dams breaking at once. The resulting flood, occurring during a school day would sweep away any children in its path behind the Victoria Street School. He referred to the construction of one of the dams and said "I don't know why it doesn't go."

The municipal solicitor said there could be a problem with lowering the water level in the middle pond. He said residents in the area used the pond for recreational purposes and there may be opposition to affecting this.

Did you know?

As you are probably aware, there have been a few changes to housing grants and loans administered by Canada Mortgage and Housing following last month's budget.

The $3,000 grant to new home buyers has been extended to May 31, 1983 (Canadian Homeownership Stimulation Plan). Footings have to be in the ground and inspected by the local building inspector by that date. It will be "first started, first served", because the amount of money available to each office of the CMHC is limited. Applications from Haliburton County, together with proof of inspection, should be sent to the Peterborough Office, 251 Charlotte Street, Box 689, Peterborough, Ontario. K9J 6Z8.

(At press time we have been informed that funding has been exhausted. Applications are still being accepted, however, and will be dealt with when more money becomes available).

The CHRP forgivable loan for home renovations of up to $3,000 has been extended to March 31, 1984.

Camping considered for fairground

Wayne Cox, president of the Haliburton County Fair Board, has asked Anson, Hindon and Minden council to consider allowing private trailers on the fair grounds during the annual event.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said the fair had private trailers using some of the grounds about three years ago, but campgrounds in the area reacted unfavourably.

Councillor Pat Burk said, "I don't like the idea", and carried this opinion throughout the debate. "I don't like taking business away."

Dick Schell, by-law enforcement officer, said the by-law presently permits only trailers belonging to ride operators and the Kinsmen club trailer on the grounds. He said if the council were to allow trailers at the site, they would "have to arrange washroom facilities."

Council Gary Kenney said other fairs sanction the trailers and it works. He said the municipality sells food at the fair and questioned the difference between that and charging for private trailers.

Burk felt the municipality was "opening a can of worms" and wondered about the mess left by the trailers.

McKnight replied the fair board is responsible for the mess on the grounds as part of the agreement. He said as long as the garbage was cleaned up there was "no difference between the trailers and horses and cattle."

The by-law enforcement officer said he would check the regulations to determine which laws have to be taken into account, such as the number of trailers permitted per square foot. "Cox didn't say anything about how many," he said.

Dysart ponders conflict regulations

The question of conflict of interest was discussed by Dysart council and Paul Jones and Bruce McNaughton of the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing during the municipality's monthly meeting May 9.

Jones showed a film covering the various aspects of the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act including those referred to by the Act, exceptions to the Act, the responsibility of those involved and action taken if the Act is disobeyed. He then relinquished the floor to McNaughton.

Bruce McNaughton was one of the researchers for the revised piece of legislation. He explained the new Act is written in language easily understood, rather than the former phrasing, "drawn up by lawyers for lawyers."

He explained a board or council member may have a pecuniary interest in an issue if the member has a financial investment, is a senior director or officer, belongs to a body with an interest or is a partner to employee of a body with a financial interest in a municipal transaction. Also, an interest of a parent, spouse or child is considered applicable.

There are a series of exceptions, among them using a public utility, owning a debenture, receiving benefits a member is entitled to or if the interest is "remote and insignificant".

If a member has an interest it is to be disclosed and the general nature outlined, the member cannot take part in any discussion of the matter and can not attempt to influence the voting on the decision.

If the member with an interest is absent from the meeting when the matter was considered, the Act states the individual must disclose the interest at the next sitting. In the case of a closed meeting, the member should leave the room.

The bill stresses that the interest should be noted in the minutes or in the record of the following meeting if the former meeting is closed.

McNaughton said the act has a section for contraventions of the Act. A judge can declare the seat open, order the offender to make restitution and forbid holding office for up to seven years. The judge may also rule the conflict to be an honest error in judgement or inadvertent and the member is therefore not punished.

McNaughton said there are three areas the act has been improved over the former legislation. He mentioned the straightforward language, the old Act forced members to declare trivial interests and the penalty for abuse of the Act did not include restitution, a strong inhibitor.

Car strikes tree

A car being driven by a Manitoba man struck a tree adjacent to the Dover Springs Road in Dysart Township. The accident occurred May 4.

Andrew Nififoruk, 28, of Winnipeg, was attempting to negotiate a curve when his vehicle left the roadway striking the tree. A passenger in the car, 24 year old Christopher Nikiforuk, 24, of Toronto sustained minor injuries in the mishap. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $2000.

The Winnipeg man has been charged with careless driving.

The accident was investigated by Constable Bob Wood.

book nook

The following list of books is now available for your reading pleasure at the Minden Public Library.

Juvenile Fiction

Author: York, Susannah.
Title: Lark's Castle.

Lark, a wooden doll, left behind by her owner, has a lifestone dropped in her lap. Read how with this lifestone, toys and even an old rocking horse come to life and what they do with Ermy the witch and her tame goose Skite. A fantasy with illustrations in black and white by Michael Baldwin.

Juvenile Non-Fiction

Author: Clutesi, George.
Title: Son of Raven, Son of Deer.

Fables of Tse-shaht, people of B.C.'s Coastal Region. This is illustrated in black and white by the author and shows how the Indian children learn through fables.

Adult Fiction

Author: Ben Stein.
Title: The Croesus Conspiracy.

Dr. Authur Koters is Secretary of State of the United States of America—but he is far more than that: he is the modern super-Metternich; protean, tireless, brilliant; a giant of both secret and limelight diplomacy; a man who arrived in America as a young Jewish refugee from Nazi Germany and rose from the ranks of professorship to celebrity and awesome power as the best-known negotiator in the world; confidant of kings, presidents and dictators; a maker of history as well as a teacher of history. When an ambitious California U.S. Senator Travis Bickel, accidentally discovers his friend Koters' name in what appears to be an old list of Hitler Youth members (but surely it's impossible—Koters is Jewish, Koters fled Germany, Koters is beyond suspicion!), strange things begin to happen. The Senator's most trusted aide is blown up by a bomb. The list vanishes. A beautiful young woman seduces the Senator (if she is a spy, for whom is she working?), and he receives the awesomely flattering attention of Elson Patterson, the world's richest man, who wants to help make Bickel President of the United States but has some curiously admiring things to say about Adolf Hitler from the sanctuary of his huge, wooded estate near New York.

Ben Stein has written the ultimate political thriller, in a novel so frighteningly realistic (and full of recognizable people) that it is not only unputdownable, but devastatingly convincing—so much so, in fact that you may find yourself wondering whether the Croesus Conspiracy hasn't already succeeded.

Kennel call

The following animal is available for adoption from the Minden Animal Clinic. For more information contact Dr. Peter Bennett at 286-2919.

A small tan and white collie-cross. Lovely disposition. Found on Bobcaygeon Road.

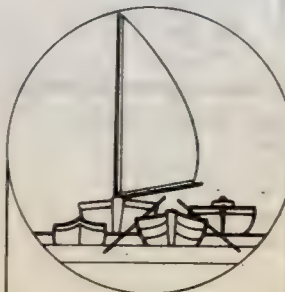

Adult Non-Fiction

Author: B. Lee and M.K. Rudman ED. D.
Title: Mind Over Media.

A recent study found that students of the ages 9, 13, 19 knew how to read and write but their skills began to drop because they were under the impression that as they moved into the electronic world they wouldn't need these skills.

Mind Over Media is a dip-into book for parents of elementary school children who have mastered the art of reading and writing but resist any effort to help them improve these skills.

This book offers hundreds of ideas in how to improve their language skills by making it interesting and fun and not a chore.

Looking back

Richard Hughes, the Crown Land Agent for settlement along the Bobcaygeon Road, was required to file a yearly report on progress in his area of concern. The last installment recounted his observations at the end of 1859. Two years later, according to his year-end tally, activity along the road from Bobcaygeon to Minden had increased a great deal. On December 31, 1861, he reports the following:

In accordance with directions from the Department of Crown Lands, I beg to submit my annual report of the progress made by the settlers on the Bobcaygeon Road...

Three post offices have been established up to the 31st December, at Galway, Kinmount, and Minden respectively. I understand that, in reply to a petition by the inhabitants, it is the intention of the Honorable Post Master General, during the winter, to extend the postal facilities as far as Stanhope, and to give the settlers two mails per week.

Houses of entertainment can be found at distances along the road of from four to six miles, and are ten in number. The number of stores has been increased on the road during the past year and now amounts to six. Settlers can generally obtain all the necessities of life at either of them.

Three Saw Mills on the road have been completed, one at Kinmount, one at North Britain, and the third at Minden, on a Branch of the Gull River. Two Blacksmith's shops have been put in operation during the past year. Mr. J. H. Cummings has also erected a building large enough to put in a planing machine, shingle mill, turning lathe, and one or two run of mill stones, all of which he intends to complete during the next year, under the same roof with his saw mill now nearly completed.

Only one Grist Mill has been completed, north of Bobcaygeon as yet, viz: at Kinmount, by John Hunter, Esq., and the quantity of grain for grinding is steadily increasing. Two other grist mills will be finished, according to conditions, during the ensuing summer.

Of School-houses four have been built, and four school sections have been established. Three of the schools have been in successful operation during the year, and have been well attended. The other school house is just completed, and it is the intention of the inhabitants that the school shall be opened after the new year...

I should have said that the school houses on the road are open to all denominations, and that services are held at several places nearly every Sunday. Ministers of the various denominations pay frequent visits to the back country, and hold services in the different localities. A minister of the Church of Scotland, and another of the Methodist persuasion, live on the road, and hold regular services.

Spring is just around the corner,
Potholes appearing 'round the bend.
If your shocks are in need of fixing Bring 'em in for Jim to mend.

by Bert Harrison

Our Administrator is back again, after a week's holiday. We children were as good as gold while he was away.

The service in the chapel Sunday night, we were glad the Thompsons were there, Ruth to play and lead the singing, Harold to read the scripture lessons and offer prayers. Then Rev. Burgess pulled up his socks and gave us a splendid talk on Peter's treasure box.

We welcome two new residents here at Hyland Crest, Mrs. Marjorie Shyler and Mr. Fred Beaforth. We hope they will like it here and we are sure they will fare the best.

We had a ham radio set up at Hyland Crest and the operator was our special guest. His name is Regie Argyle and he has the cutest little smile. He said he would try to get long distance calls through to England, Ireland and even to Timbuktu. It was a real exciting day, and a real good chance to try to talk to relatives in England, Scotland, Ireland or France. He spent a lot of time and had a lot of fun but hadn't made contact with many when the day was done.

Monday night movies showed, "Beautiful Lenard Islands", and "The Caravans". Rev. George Elliott held a very impressive communion service in the chapel on Tuesday along with his student minister Dennis Dowell, the summer months to stay. We welcome you here at Hyland Crest, we hope you enjoy yourself and be truly blessed. Tuesday night Earl Cooper to Hyland Crest did come, not only brought his fiddle but wife and son. They played us real fine music as from the days gone by, like Stealing a kiss from a little miss while coming through the rye, with Elinor at the piano and Earl on the mandolin, it was really lovely. They also played some good old Hymns.

The ladies from the Gospel Chapel at West Guilford brought in the lunch on Thursday afternoon, after thanking and giving them a special greeting, we had to leave for a resident's council meeting.

Those having birthdays in the month of May, Ida Schell, Mille Wood, Mary Grozell, Della Curry, Victor Spencely & Mark Schell. When some of our nurses go on leave, we really miss them so, I wish they'd tell me where they're going or tell me where to go.

Thursday evening Douglas Ripley put on the Bingo. He had a helper with him that no one seemed to know. We had a couple come in each Friday afternoon to lead us in a sing song and play some merry tunes. The lady had some humorous poems to dispatch with ease; the gentleman takes great pleasure in fingering the keys.

We are sorry to leave nurse Mary Raby, with her friendly smile, she is going into business where she hopes to make a pile. Nurse Mary bowed out from here with grace, we hear that Ruby Graham is going to take her place. One of our kitchen staff is far from being dumb, she told me she has her boyfriend right under her thumb.

Doris Robertson our Activities Director, has undergone an operation and they say, came through it fine. If anyone cares to send a card or maybe drop a line, the address is Peterborough Civic Hospital, Room 423. We are all praying that she will be much improved in health and back with us again. We are finishing this letter on Mother's Day. God bless all mothers, we would like to say. It's a great day for mothers here at Hyland Crest, their sons and daughters come to visit them and all are truly blessed.

Erosion a concern

- Ag. Report -

by Neil Moore, P. Ag. Soils & Crops Specialist

Soil that is open to the impact of rain and wind is susceptible to erosion. Row crops do leave the soil exposed until the canopy can cover the ground. By leaving as much residue as possible on the surface or crimped to the surface, you can help anchor the soil to hold it in place.

Should you be considering further protection? Surveys done through the Durham West 125 Bushel Corn Club have shown that most of these farmers were making about two trips over the fields with a cultivator or disc in the spring. You should not need to make any more than two trips unless levelling the field or seeding down, or beans. Some farmers on sandy loam could also consider making only a single trip or even no till.

Nearly every farm has an area where the water will come to after spring runoff or a heavy rain. If enough water gathers in this area the soil will wash and produce a rill or small gully. If you have areas like this, then a grassed waterway will provide the protection necessary to prevent the rill or small gully from appearing again and again.

Most of the soil erosion occurs as a moving thin layer of soil which we have trouble seeing. Year after year, however, this will deposit the soil on the bottom of the slopes and expose subsoil on the upper slope. If we can slow down this sheet erosion by proper tillage and cropping practices, we can really improve the soil productivity of the land and the value of the farm.

If you are concerned, it may be time to do something.

4-H Clubs organize by Mark Leahy, Farm Management Specialist

The Victoria County 4-H Agricultural Clubs are organized and underway for the summer. Two hundred and ten enthusiastic members have joined a total of twenty 4-H Clubs. The club programs are led by forty volunteers.

Beef continues to be the most popular project with ninety-seven members, followed by dairy with fifty-one members. Two new projects this year are poultry and farm safety. Both projects are quite popular with fourteen members in poultry and twenty-nine members in the farm safety club.

Field crops, swine, pony, heritage, ploughing, sheep.

veterinary science, and garden projects are also in operation as usual.

Four 4-H projects were offered during the past winter. Senior Dairy Management, Senior Beef Management, Crop & Livestock Evaluation and Financial Management Clubs were operating from January to April. The 4-H Financial Management project was being offered for the first time across Ontario. It was also the first project available to 4-H agricultural or homemaking club members.

Deadline to join a 4-H agricultural club for the summer has passed.

Events this week:

Wednesday, May 11: 1:00 p.m. Stocker Sale at Woodville Sale Barn.

8:15 p.m.: Victoria Federation of Agriculture meeting Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Tuesday, May 17: 8:00 p.m. Haliburton County Farmers' Association Executive Meeting at the home of Bill Moore, Kinmount.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: Why is the heart of a pine tree like the tail of a dog?

A: Both are a long way from the bark.

Q: How do you keep milk from turning sour?

A: Leave it in the cow.

Q: Why is the Canada Goose like an elephant's trunk?

A: It grows down.

Q: What must you do before getting out of bed?

A: Get into it.

A Eulogy for Ida Maude Noice

Born May 26th, 1882
Died May 7th, 1983

Ida Maude Noice was born in Minden on May 26th, 1882. She was one of eight children, one having died as a child. She had a sister Florence, brothers Frederick Charles, John Albert, Arthur Edward, Walter Wilfred and William Henry. However only her brother Walter survives. She was the daughter of the late Edward and Mary Jane Noice (nee Welch). Her father was a prosperous general merchant in Minden for many years, but the family moved to Toronto during the First World War. Ida attended school in Minden, as did her sister and brothers. After graduation she became a student at Whitby Ladies College (which is now Trafalgar School), and graduated in 1898. She then entered Ottawa General School of nursing and graduated from the Lady Stanley Institute for trained nurses. She joined the army as a Lieutenant and served her country. At the close of the war, Ida resigned from her army post and took up private nursing for many years until her retirement in 1956. She then moved back to Minden where she resided until she suffered a stroke in 1970. For some years she was a patient at Sunnybrook Military Hospital, until she quietly passed away in her sleep on Saturday, May 7th. She has been an inspiration to us all. We hope she has found the rest she so richly deserves. The funeral service for Ida will be held on Wednesday, May 11th at 11:00 a.m. at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Minden. Resting at the Gordon Monk Funeral Home. Interment at the Minden Cemetery.

For my Aunt, Ida Noice
from a loving niece.

Life or Death

What does it mean?
Just a total and completely different scene.

Will the skies by any bluer
Or the sun seem any brighter?

All we can hope for
Is the load we bore on earth
Will be a little lighter.
And perhaps like Omar
Khayyam
Who said

The cares that infest the day
Will fold their tents
Like the Arabs

And as silently steal away.
I do believe there is a message
And for us a higher plan,
God has a destiny for us
Not known to mortal man.

With love, Yvonne

Many people here in town
may not know that Therm Carby, who was born and raised in Minden (her daughter is Marlene Pilcher also of Minden), is very ill and confined to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. We all pray for her speedy recovery.

Dad and I enjoyed a delicious, quiet dinner at the Fireside Restaurant celebrating Mother's Day.

I am happy to report that Mary Maidens is home from the hospital and is on the mend. We all hope she continues to be well.

Please keep in mind the new exhibition at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery which opens on Wednesday, May 11th at 7:30 p.m. Children's Art, work of the children of Archie Stouffer School. There will be gymnastic performances and music by members of the school band. Refreshments will be served and it should be a very fine show. Do come out and support these young people who have worked diligently to make this endeavour a big success. We have a lot of very talented youngsters in our midst so let's give them the recognition they deserve.

Also don't forget the next exhibit, the work of Irwin Karnick, photographer, who has been called by many, a genius in his field. This show will follow the Children's Art Exhibition. The show opens June 2nd and runs to July 5th. A reception will be held opening night.

Please help the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery by becoming a member. It is really a small amount to pay for the enjoyment you receive.
Single memberships are $10.00 and for family $15.00. Haliburton enthusiastically supports its Rail's End Gallery. Let us not be outdone in not supporting what we have here in Minden.

There is, one knows not what sweet mystery about this sea, whose gently awful stirrings seem to speak of some hidden soul beneath
.. the waves should rise and fall, and ebb and flow unceasingly; for here,
millions of mixed shades
and shadows, drowned dreams, somnambulisms, reveries; all that we call lives
and souls, lie dreaming, dreaming still; tossing like slumberers in their beds; the ever-rolling waves but made so by their restlessness..

Reg, Carol, Reg Jr. and Karen Leaman of Keswick visited Saturday with Mr.
and Mrs. M. Sears.

A goodly crowd from the weekly Thursday afternoon
"Card Gang" held at St.
Paul's Parish, enjoyed a bountiful pot luck supper, followed by an evening of euchre and cribbage on Wednesday, May 4. Father George accepted $100 as proceeds from this project.

Minden Women's Institute are having their May meeting on the 18th at 2 at the Common Room of the Library Cultural Centre
with all ladies welcome.

Museum weekly card parties start on May 12 at 1:30 at the Common Room.
Euchre and cribbage - all welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hewitt have returned from Huston, Texas after a two week holiday. They had an enjoyable visit with her cousin Johnny Johnson and family. Mr. Hewitt also informs us that Dr. F.E.A.
Griffiths, formerly of Minden, asked to be remembered to all in Minden and vicinity.
